Academic & Community Resource Guide

Office of

Academic Advising & Retention
The University of the District of Columbia's (UDC) Office of Academic Advising and Retention has created this guide to serve as a resource for students and support persons working with students when addressing students’ needs.

UDC is not responsible for the quality of services provided or the privacy practices of these agencies, organizations, or resources. The individual student should discuss his or her plan of care as well as any concerns with the policies. We invite you to browse and use this guide. You can also make suggestions to be added to future editions.

For questions or suggestions, please contact us at (202) 274-6899.

Academic Support Services
Building 39, Room 111, (202) 274-5938

The Academic Support Center (ASC) offers several free services to help undergraduates excel in their courses and their academic careers. In addition, the ASC provides student referrals, faculty support, and policy information to strengthen support services across campus.

Student Support

- Academic Workshops – Workshops on study, research, and writing skills are offered each semester. In-class workshops can be scheduled by faculty.

- Calculator Loaner Program – students may borrow TI-83 Plus or TI-84 Plus Graphing Calculators for the semester

- Study Hall – study space with 10 computer workstations

- Tutoring - free peer tutoring (face-to-face and online) in core subject areas (writing in all disciplines, quantitative reasoning, oral communication, technology, and foreign languages) and general study skills; and referrals to specialized tutorial units (i.e. Mathematics, Accounting, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Community College Tutoring)

- Reference Materials - handouts, worksheets, and style guides for academic writing

Faculty Support

- Professional Development – training on support services and utilizing and making resource referrals

- Reference Materials – handouts, workshops, and texts for teaching academic writing and improving study skills

KHAN Academy (khanacademy.org) provides instructional videos and practice problems in mathematics, science, history, economics, and more. All tutorials are led by one instructor.

MathTV.com Students can view videos of different instructors solving the same math problem. One of the instructors provides the explanation in Spanish.

MathVids.com uses certified math instructors to teach a particular math lessons. As instructors include senior professors, new professors, unorthodox professors, tutors, and students, each viewer can find a video that matches her/his learning style.

Mathway.com provides step-by-step solutions to all math problems, using simple interfaces and commonly used platforms.
