SCHOLARSHIP COMPETITION DETAILS:

“Build Your Dream Day”: In April 2018, UDC, the Clifton Foundation and the Thurgood Marshall College Fund will launch the scholarship competition in a series of in-school programs at selected schools that will be announced shortly. On APRIL 28TH, 2018, UDC will host a city-wide “Build Your Dream Day” at UDC from 10:00 AM to 12:30pm. The “Build Your Dream Day” will include motivational speeches about the value of entrepreneurship, information about the Capital Builders Center Program, a (BP-10) entrepreneurial assessment, a student challenge activity, a rousing finish and refreshments.

PROGRAM DETAILS:

Program will select 40 students for the initial boot camp, and then award 20 full tuition scholarships to selected students for the program.

Capital Builders Center Boot Camps: Summer programs with some weekend activities hosted by UDC provide basic life skills and teach participants about starting a business, help participants outline business concepts, help participants flush out models and validate the viability of concepts, including 4-week internships at local businesses.

Capital Builders Center Apprenticeships: The three-semester entrepreneurship training and apprenticeship program is designed to support high potential (select) entrepreneurs with life skills, job placements, entrepreneur courses, business coaching and mentoring, and knowledge about business financing, while providing the connection to resources to build their business and take risks.

Life Skills Training and Economic and Social Support Services: UDC will provide life skills training and support services to help the Clifton Scholars manage the economic and social challenges they are confronting.

Student Stipends: The Clifton Scholars will receive a total stipend of $2000 if they complete the entire program.
