When this University Housing Application is completed, signed and returned to the Office of Residence Life, with the accompanying non-refundable $150 application fee, it establishes an interest in, and not a guarantee of, University housing. Once an offer of housing is made, your acceptance (by signature) of the University Housing Agreement establishes a legal, binding, academic-year-long agreement between the Student, parent or guardian (if applicable) and the University of the District of Columbia. If a student participates in the Housing Application process but does not receive an offer, his or her name will automatically be added to the Waitlist. The Office of Residence Life will refer to the Waitlist when a vacancy occurs. Students are not guaranteed housing by adding his or her name to the Waitlist. Students are asked to remove their name from the Waitlist if they are no longer interested in University housing.

This calculator worksheet is intended to assist you in making decisions about whether university housing is an affordable option for you. Use it to determine the level of funding necessary to support your cost of attendance and University Housing.

_____	X	$ _____	=	$ _____
of Credit Hours		Cost per credit hour		Tuition
		+	(add) other fees	$ _____
		=	Total Due (before housing)	$ _____
		-	(subtract) Financial Aid Award	$ _____
		=	Amount available to cover housing expenses	$ _____

If the figure above exceeds $4,696 per semester, your Financial Aid award is sufficient to cover the cost of housing (amount subject to percentage increase).

If the figure above is a negative number, this represents unmet need. You may want to consider other funding options.

TMS Payment Arrangement

(subject to terms set forth by the Office of Student Accounts) $ _____

A Financial Aid Officer and/or Student Accounts representative must verify ability to pay before the Office of Residence Life processes the application.
