

2022 CACREP Vital Statistics

The University of the District of Columbia

- Master of Science in Counseling – School Concentration
- Master of Art in Rehabilitation Counseling

The University of the District of Columbia (UDC) is a public land grant institution in the District of Columbia. The Counseling department consists of:

- MS in Counseling – School Concentration (60 semester hours): Accredited under the 2009 CACREP Standards
- MA in Rehabilitation Counseling (60 semester hours): Accredited under the 2016 CACREP Standards
- MS in Counseling – Mental Health Concentration (60 semester hours): under CACREP review

The CACREP national accreditation for both the MS in Counseling – School Concentration and MA in Rehabilitation Counseling programs extends to March and October 2024 respectively. This report of vital statistics is required of all CACREP-accredited programs and must be publicly reported in a program outcomes report for the program website.

Current students enrolled in the 2 1/2-year program= 40 matriculated in both the Rehabilitation Counseling and School Counseling Programs

Graduates from program in 2021-2022=16

Completion rate of students in program =87% (% of admitted students who graduate from the program in the expected time (full and part-time student in 3-5yrs))

Licensure examination pass rate of students graduating from program=N/A

Students completing the program must complete 2000-hour post Masters in two-years before sitting for exam.

Job Placement rate of graduates seeking employment=100%

100% of 2021-2022 MS graduates reported that if they were seeking employment in mental health post-graduation, they are working in mental health locations. Eighty percent of interns continued as employees at their sites after graduation or offered employment.

Number of applications for program 2022: 42

Applications received in 2022:42
2021:20
2020:25

Submitted by Dr. Nathalie Mizelle
Counseling Program Director,
Nathalie.mizellejohn@udc.edu

CACREP liaison-Ms. Tyshawna Sales-CAS
Assessment Coordinator
tyshawna.sales@udc.edu